Course Description:

Concealment and Performance Handgun is now combined into a Hybrid Pistol course.

 Through aggressive, sport-based training, we will explore, compare, and enhance your effectiveness with both firearms*

This course is based on Mike's deep dive into over 30k rounds of experience shooting, competing with a micro, and the profound discovery and effect it has proven to have on his full-size gun high performance marksmanship.

We have recognized the immense value of combining the two for skill refinement and comparison and now bring that to the shooter in this uniquely practical and insightful course.

The training with a micro or traditional compact gun will enhance and very likely shift much of what you thought was possible with your full-size gun. It will also profoundly alter how you perceive grip and recoil management with a larger handgun.

The smaller guns require a much higher level of precision in your draw stroke, grip tension, target focus, and overall gun handling. This makes the Hybrid Pistol course experience value added to the shooter, with skill refinement that bridges across the handgun spectrum.

The training format: shoot micros day one and full-size guns day two, facilitating the exploration, and comparison of the two firearms, and enhancing the shooters effectiveness with both.
